Sensei Labs | October 4, 2023

Toronto, Canada | Mumbai – October 4, 2023 – Sensei Labs has announced a global partnership with Tata Consultancy Services (TCS) (BSE: 532540, NSE: TCS) to bring Conductor, their award-winning Enterprise Orchestration platform, to TCS' clients. This partnership combines TCS's deep expertise in digital transformation with Conductor's proven orchestration capabilities to drive better results, faster.

Driving Digital Transformation at Scale

The World Economic Forum (WEF) predicts that the combined value of digital transformation could exceed $100 trillion over the next decade, driven by the convergence of mobile, cloud, artificial intelligence, sensors, and analytics. To participate in this growth, companies must fundamentally change how they identify, develop, and launch new business ventures. Sensei Labs' Conductor platform and TCS's Strategic Program Management Orchestrator are designed to help enterprises navigate this transformation landscape effectively.

TCS, one of the world's leading providers of digital transformation solutions, has a proven track record of helping Fortune 500 and Global 2000 companies across various industries. From cloud migration and data analytics to artificial intelligence and cybersecurity, TCS's comprehensive services enable organizations to capture significant value from digital transformation.

Combining Expertise for Unmatched Orchestration

Sensei Labs and TCS have created a unique offering that integrates Conductor's orchestration technology with TCS's Strategic Program Management Orchestrator. This combined approach allows TCS clients to benefit from the latest advancements in enterprise orchestration, making even the most complex transformations manageable and value-generating within weeks.

"We've had the unique opportunity to participate in thousands of enterprise transformation projects, gaining a deep understanding of the challenges faced by organizations as they evolve," said Jay Goldman, Co-Founder and CEO of Sensei Labs. "Our partnership with TCS leverages that knowledge and pairs it with Conductor's intuitive and collaborative platform to deliver unmatched orchestration capabilities."

Immediate Benefits for TCS Clients
